Library to Show Hjordis Parker Film

The colorful story of Greenland will come to life on the screen when Hjordis Kittel Parker brings to the Sierra Madre Public Library her color film, "The People of Greenland," on March 26 at 8 p.m.

The program is being sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

A native of Norway, Mrs. Parker makes her home in Sierra Madre. She came to the United States from her birthplace, Oslo, at the age of seven. Her father served in the Norwegian Consular Service for many years. She became an American citizen and later a student of journalism at the Universities of California and Washington.

THROUGH HER previous films on Norway and Sweden, Mrs. Parker has won recognition as one of the top film lecturers in the United States, having appeared repeatedly on practically all major world-adventure film lecture series in the United States, Canada and the Hawaiian Islands. She also appears frequently on both local and national television programs.

Because of the success of Mrs. Parker's work, the Scandinavian governments continue to give their cooperation, making available the facilities necessary for the production of outstanding films. A recent example of this is the permission and help she received to film in Greenland. Very few people in the world have had this privilege.

On one occasion, during the filming of Greenland, Mrs. Parker went by motor boat into a remote fjord to find some icebergs, supposedly scarce at that time of year. Suddenly, around a turn in the fjord, they came upon hundreds of green and blue icebergs floating rapidly with the current.

THEY WERE all sizes, from much larger than a house to small pieces of ice that could be used in a home icebox. The small boat was quickly surrounded by them and it was necessary to push the smaller ones aside to keep them from damaging the boat.

The language problem became quite complicated in Greenland, Hjordis Parker explained. When Mr. Parker, who assisted with the Greenland part of the filming, wished to speak to a Greenlandic, he explained what he wanted to say to Mrs. Parker in English. She explained it to her Greenlandic guide in Norwegian. He could not speak Norwegian, but could interpret her meaning through his knowledge of Danish. The guide then spoke in his native tongue, Greenlandic, to the Greenlandic.

FIRE CALL

The Fire Department answered a call at 401 Crestvale Tuesday afternoon, but the fire was out by the time the truck arrived. The trouble was caused by a short circuit in a television set at the home of Patrick Mackle.

Sunrise Rites Set At Vine

Easter Sunrise services, a 25-year tradition here, will again call the devout to worship beneath the Wistaria Vine, world's largest flowering plant.

Two visiting Methodist ministers will conduct the service, beginning at 5:45 o'clock, April 6, as the Easter dawn's first light filters through lavender blossoms.

Dr. Frank G. H. Stevens, founding pastor of St. James Methodist Church, Altadena, will deliver the Resurrection sermon, with the Rev. M. K. Stone presiding over scripture readings and prayer.

Sacred organ music will be played by Mrs. M. G. Doyel of Sierra Madre, with Doris Krug as contralto soloist.

The Revs. Stevens and Stone came immediately to the aid of the Wistaria Vine Festival when Dr. Chilton C. McPheters of Sierra Madre Methodist Church became ill and could not repeat the service he has previously conducted.

Now at its peak, the Vine's blooming season is expected to last until mid-April.

Good Friday Rites Planned By 7 Pastors

Protestant churches of the Sierra Madre Ministerial Association will unite for a three-hour Good Friday service from noon to 3 p.m. April 4.

Seven pastors will participate, each taking one of the last seven words of Christ from the Cross for a brief meditation. Vocal and instrumental music is planned.

The service will be held at Bethany Church, 93 N. Baldwin.

County Study On Dump Sites Held

A policy under which the county would take responsibility for providing cities with rubbish dump sites was recommended Tuesday to county supervisors.

County Manager Lindon S. Hollinger said officials of Los Angeles and other cities feel the dump problem is a "100 per cent county responsibility."

HE ASKED the board to spell out a plan under which cities would take responsibility for rubbish collection with the county handling the ultimate disposal.

Hollinger's report followed conferences last week with Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson, City Council President John Gibson Jr. and County Supervisor Warren M. Dorn.

The county officials found Los Angeles is unwilling to put up part of the money to buy a 400-acre canyon refuse disposal spot off Sepulveda Blvd. north of Sunset Blvd.

HOLLINGER said the city had a "very clear understanding" that county officials had promised to provide the dumps at the time supervisors voted the 1956 ban on back yard incinerators.

But such a county policy was never officially adopted by the board.

The county manager's report suggested that the dump sites be acquired either by outright county action or under joint agreements with sanitation districts or the cities.

In all cases the land, when reclaimed, would be used for recreational purposes.

uct areas and which speeded release of other new products to production.

Noting that "the company's broad instrumentation line is assured a prominent role in the nation's missile program," Fogg said, "Consolidated's 1958 profit picture will depend to a large extent upon the early release of federal funds for missile programs."

Bus Firm Asks Hike In Fares

A 20 per cent fare increase has been requested by Pasadena City Lines in an application to the State Public Utilities Commission, it was revealed Tuesday.

The bus company cited recent wage hikes as the reason.

The firm is asking that its present 10-cent cash fare be increased to 12 cents a ride, and that the price of four tokens be raised from 35 cents to 45 cents.

THERE WAS no request for an increase in the student fare, currently $2.60 for 40 rides, or in the 5-cent extra fare charged for zones outside the city.

The City Lines notified the Pasadena Board of City Directors by letter of its intention to apply to the PUC for fare hikes. The letter was signed by George H. Hook, vice president.

Directors Tuesday referred the matter to City Manager Don McMillan and City Attorney Frank Kostlan, and authorized the latter to represent Pasadena in any PUC hearing.

McMILLAN commented: "There is no question but that there must be a fare increase."

He said he had learned the company is carrying 5,000 fewer passengers a day since settlement of the 72-day strike that ended last month.

The drivers won a 20-cent wage increase and other benefits in the long dispute.

Fashion Shop To Close

Fashion Future will close its doors April 1 after 10 years in Sierra Madre.

The store, owned by Betty Johnson and Oleta deCampo, opened 10 years ago after the partners bought out the old Frances Scott Shop in Kersting Ct. Their present location is at 85 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Mrs. Johnson said she is going to "enjoy being a housewife for awhile," and Mrs. deCampo hopes to do some extensive globe-trotting. (See Around the Square on editorial page.)

Appointment of Clerk, Treasurer Is Argued

Candidates Express Views at Meeting

The appointment instead of the election of the city clerk and treasurer was called a "good thing" Monday night by City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington.

Bevington spoke at a meeting before members of the Civic Service Group, called to discuss issues and to listen to candidates for City Council. Bevington's position was answered by Al Myers, one of nine candidates for three Council vacancies.

STATING THAT California is one of the few states in which many cities still elect their clerks and treasurers, Bevington said:

"If new ideas come along in government, and if they are good ideas, we should take advantage of them."

He added that the clerk and treasurer do not have policy making jobs, that their positions are mainly clerical in nature and that they should be chosen on the basis of ability, not popularity at the polls.

The duties of the city clerk in Sierra Madre, Bevington said, are:

1. Keep records of proceedings of the City Council.
2. Maintain records of the financial condition of the city.
3. Prepare and publish an annual summary of receipts and disbursements.
4. Attest to, keep records of, and publish all ordinances.
5. Keep custody of the city seal.
6. Issue licenses.
7. Administer oaths or affirmations.
8. Certify pay rolls of officers and employees.

THE DUTIES of the city treasurer are:

1. Receive and safely keep all money.
2. Comply with laws governing depositing and securing of public funds.
3. Pay out money on receipt of proper warrants.
4. Submit monthly reports on all receipts.
5. Collect city taxes and license fees.

The present clerk and treasurer, both of whom work part time, would not be affected by a vote in favor of appointment since their elective terms do not expire until 1960.

MYERS, in a brief rebuttal, said:

"Every elective position in the city belongs to the city. An appointee is beyond the reach of the city. As for me, I think the jobs should remain elective because elected officials are responsible to the people."

The election or appointment of the clerk and treasurer will be included in separate propositions on the ballot in the election April 8.

EACH CANDIDATE for the Council spoke for approximately five minutes. A brief resume of their statements, in the order of their appearance, follows:

MILTON EMERSON—Said he believes he is qualified because, as a civil engineer, he has had experience in contracts, specifications, building codes, zoning ordinances and construction problems.

WILLIAM LISLE—His experience as a Planning Commission member for eight years and his present position as a city councilman have provided excellent training in city functions.

ALBERT MYERS—Reiterated his position that the city is spending more money than it receives and that, if elected, he would take steps to cut down expenditures.

JAMES MCCOY—Pointed to his service as president of the Coordinating Council and as a current member of the Recreation Commission, and added that, if elected, he would attempt to retain the city's independence and, if possible, make Sierra Madre a better place to live.

GEORGE FLEMING—Said he believes he is capable of making intelligent decisions, based on the facts, that he wishes to perpetuate the present independent status of Sierra Madre and work for its improvement.

DELBERT WATTS—Said the incumbent, William Lisle, should be re-elected and expressed regret that Councilman Harold Roberts was unable to run again. He added that Sierra Madre is an ideal place in which to live and to raise children and, if elected, he would try to keep it that way.

FRANK PARKS—Has lived in Sierra Madre for eight years, likes the town and wants to have a hand in improving it. He believes the present Council has done an excellent job and stated that he is running strictly on his own and is not a part of any clique.

CLIFFORD STOWELL—Believes his background as plant superintendent in Los Angeles for Gladding-McBean and former director of industrial relations for the company qualify him to become a councilman. He feels that people in his age group (he's in his 30's) should take a more active interest in community affairs.

JAMES ABERNETHY—Believes recreation and the problem of supplying the city with water are the two most important considerations. Stated he would devote all of his time, aside from his job, to city affairs, if elected, and is running independently and is not a part of any group.

Work on City Ball Field Is Underway

The City of Sierra Madre has started fencing the ball diamond in the new park area on W. Sierra Madre Blvd. following the receipt of $450 from the Civic Club.

City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington said side line fences and the backstop, necessary for Little League play, will cost $820. This will leave $120 to spend on grading the field.

BEVINGTON also reported that the city plans to start repair work on Baldwin Ave. about the 15th of May. A survey of work needed on Baldwin will be made during Easter week, he said. A total of $47,500 from state gas tax funds is available for this purpose.

Among items on the agenda for Tuesday's Council meeting will be:

1. Further discussion of the drainage of water from the Fashionist Fathers Retreat. City Attorney Charles R. Martin is expected to give the legal viewpoint on the problem.
2. The naming of the new and old city parks. The new park is expected to be named

Editorial

No Greater Wrath

"No greater wrath has a sack dress scorned," as some of the letters on this page clearly indicate. Since last week's editorial, "Sack the Chemise," appeared, I've learned many things. To wit:

The chemise is an adorable creation, lovely to look at, delightful to wear, charming, modern, just what the American female has always longed for. It flatters the female figure and to compare it with Rock 'n Roll is a gross error in juxtaposition, a big word taught in college composition classes which means, simply, placing two objects side by side for purposes of comparison.

In other words, say those learned in the use of syntax, you can't add oranges and apples and come up with bananas.

So be it! Long live the chemise! Down with all men, particularly smart-aleck editors of weekly newspapers.

As for this editor, I'm going to dust off the old sarong, wrap it around my pear-shaped midriff, expose my knobby knees and flabby chest—and be comfortable all summer long.

If the women can get away with it, why can't we lesser mortals called, in error, men?—H.W.E.

Around the Square

By Tommy-Ann Miller

The heavens have bathed the winter mistiness from Mother Earth's epidemics and she'll be sprouting new finery now that Spring is here.

CASE OF CURIOS. Some fascinating objects in the Library exhibit room belonging to Mrs. Jack Shearer, chairman of the Historical Society display case. Mrs. Shearer is a descendant of the Copps family, who settled here in 1886 and at one time owned most of Sierra Madre.

Memorabilia includes a tattered silk 36-star Civil War era flag, a Cameraphone ("guaranteed to play and record"), elderly books, swords, muffin tins, medals, etc. From the past, tinsy of dignified no-nonsense faces peer out through the glass case at the contemporary paintings of voluptuous ladies by Flavio Cabral—also in the Exhibit Room.

MARGARET ANTHONY cites this as her pet peeve: Tiny foreign cars which gleefully cruise behind whenever she tries to jockey her large station wagon into a scant parallel parking area. If she fails to make it, she says they dart into the space—looking triumphant.

POWDERPUFF PARTNERS. A happy and successful 10-year partnership between Betty Johnson and Oleta deCampo will dissolve when the last garter is gone in Fashion Future's close out sale—now enticing S. M.'s female population.

Betty and Oleta, who met when their husbands were TWA pilots, began designing and making beach clothes down on Rosemead Blvd. Nine years ago, they bought out the old Frances Scott Shop here and eventually moved to their present location. Although neither partner had had any previous merchandising experience, their friendly policy gained them many loyal customers who are sorry to see Fashion Future's ending.

Their plans? Betty says she's going to enjoy "being a housewife for awhile," and Oleta hopes to globe-trot extensively.

CHALKED ON the Park-house blackboard—Bring next time: Jack Knife, Bar of soap, Pop bottle. Soap ships in bottles, maybe?

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

43 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 19, 1915—Dr. Dana Bartlett of Los Angeles will be the principal speaker before guests at the Board of Trade banquet this evening at the Woman's Clubhouse.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church will serve one of their appetizing suppers March 26 in the church dining room. Plates are 35 cents each.

Mr. E. Brooks, who has just returned from England, is building a pretty home on the corner of Mt. Trail and Central Ave.

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 18, 1938—Miss Edna Green of 66 E. Laurel was hostess at an informal tea on Tuesday afternoon.

Harvey Herring of 81 Vista Circle Drive is recovering from a severe attack of bronchitis.

10 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 18, 1948—Meeting at the home of Mrs. Troy A. Bone, 663 Brookside New Bern, N. C.

HARTMAN'S IS radiating a new light—a gorgeous hunk of blue, ruby and orange neon, which is most worthy of the store's modernized front. Owner, Rudolph Hartman, has been working for three years to design a neon sign which is attractive both day and night—and he's succeeded.

The pharmacy, in the process of the first major overhaul in its 46 years, has put in a new floor, new wiring and plumbing, added a new warehouse, and the next step will probably be an acoustical tile ceiling.

BRAVE BILLY. An emergency hemstitching job on little Billy Vogel's head by Dr. Johnson at the Medical Center—who expertly sewed 24 stitches in his forehead and left eyebrow. Billy, 3½-year-old son of the William K. Vogels, tumbled while scaling the bathroom washbasin.

THE RALPH HURWITS will take a brass band along (well, anyhow they'd like to) when they go to meet their son, Sean, First Class Alan Hurwit, due to dock aboard the S.S. Los Angeles, Monday morning.

Since September Alan has been traveling all over the Far East—and he's done everything from visit cultured pearl farms in Japan, to skin diving (for pearls?) in the Philippines.

WHOLLY BUY THIS? A legitimate version of the old "Pyramid Club"—this time with money orders and savings bonds—has made its appearance, and as usual, the first few enterprising members have pocketed the loot. What people fail to remember in "something for nothing" schemes such as this, is that shortly the market (which is limited to begin with), becomes a pyramid of all salesmen—and no buyers.

SIGN ON THE back of a giant delivery truck rumbling up Michillinda: "If you can't stop—smile as you go under!"

Package smashers in delivery systems are being detected by an instrument concealed inside ordinary shipping containers which measures rough handling without the knowledge of the handling personnel.

DOGMATIC MALES

To H.W.E.
Although I am no longer a Sierra Madren I am still actively interested in the town and receive the Sierra Madre News weekly.

Normally I read your publication with relish and pleasant memories.

Your March 13th issue, however, carried in it an editorial which I found extremely distasteful.

You chose as your target the innocent creation of the fashion world, known as the chemise dress.

AT THE RISK of appearing personally critical I must observe that your writing revealed to all that you are dogmatic, tasteless, unobservant and highly unoriginal.

To illustrate this statement I might mention that cowardly fellows like you who oppose each new style as it is designed would have females wearing hoop skirts and leg o' mutton sleeves.

Incidentally are you yourself still adhering to suits with wide shoulder pads, double-breasted dresses, and double trousers? Oh, have you succumbed to the new neat look of the tasteful Ivy League styles?

Though I dislike being vitriolic I fear that the occasion calls for a firm stand. Therefore, I should like to comment that not all women have taken to the sack "like sheep." As a matter of fact, few women other than those who are tall enough to be flattered by the style can be seen wearing it.

Unfortunately the same cannot be said for pear-shaped men who have insisted on squeezing their ungainly physiques into pleated trousers and narrow-line jackets. This is no doubt a revelation to you as you blindly adhere to the principle that only men have the gift of intelligence.

May I boldly point out that more women care about their own appearances than do men about theirs. Aren't you men the ones who complain bitterly on the subject of woman's vanity?

HOWEVER, lest I stray from the original intent of my letter may I conclude by pointing out your flagrant lack of originality. Without embarrassing you by listing hundreds of sources, it should be sufficient to say that the chemise dress has been repeatedly referred to as causing women to look like "sacks of potatoes." Nor are you the first to criticize the chemise for its modification of the female figure. This aspect, too, has been well discussed heretofore.

As for your classification of the advent of the chemise with that of Rock and Roll music, I can only remark that you have further insulted designers and women by a gross error in juxtaposition.

Respectfully,
MISS LEE MEYER
11411 Biscayne Blvd.
Garden Grove, Calif.

KEEP THE CHEMISE

Dear Editor:
In answer to your editorial of March 13, (Sack the Chemise) I wish to state (and dare you to print) that the chemise of which you speak must certainly be found right in that same gin mill of which you state that men will be driven by it!

Not the ones that the style-conscious women are buying and finding most interesting, comfortable, and pleasant to look at, beautifully tailored and artistically detailed by the designers.

Now I believe it is all not for a fast buck as you stated, but for the needed change in style, and to stimulate business, in this crucial period when business, large and small, needs such stimulating.

The chemise offers an interesting way to help. Can this be so wrong? The dress industry, large and small has gambled on this new style; millions have been spent on it.

We need the co-operation of all, and most certainly the press. If Vogue came out with an adverse statement on new styles and then advertised the same, what then?

You might remember that when men's styles came out with bell bottom pants, women screamed, and some men, but soon all were wearing them (that is the men).

Later when they went to peg legs they again screamed. Soon, however, the public settled down and goes along with the change. We have to have change. It is good for all. It keeps us enthused, alive.

In any style there is a proper fit for every one; and believe me, as in the bell bottom pants or peg leg or any style, men or women, one had better have a fair figure or leg, or one just wouldn't look too good in it.

The chemise will not conceal figure faults, but will reveal slightly the curves you seem to be so afraid will be covered.

And as for you men (God bless you), you will come along. Only yesterday a very fine looking young gentleman, came into our shop and purchased, yes, a chemise, for his wife.

Hurrah for him and for all the men and women who are not faint of heart and most certainly not the type to be seen in a gin mill, either with or without a chemise.

So, off with the old and on with the new! Oh, women! Oh, men. Ah, men!

DOROTHY LA LONE

INFORMED CITIZENRY

Dear Sir:
I like the idea of Congressman Heistand's questionnaire very much, but a thought occurred to me while doing dishes just now, that it seems rather unprofitable to ask a person's opinion on something he or she may know very little, if anything about.

Of course he may have an opinion—almost every day I listen to people who are very full of opinions on subjects of which they are actually quite ignorant.

How much does the "average" housewife, for instance, know of the plight of the small farmer and of what importance is her "opinion" to Mr. Heistand, or anyone else, for that matter. The democratic way is the best yet but can have real meaning only if its citizens are informed and apply moral principles to practical affairs.

Mr. Heistand asks, among other things, the opinion of his constituents on H-Bomb testing. Now, on this subject, even the "experts" hold widely diversified views. I, for one, even if I knew absolutely nothing about fallout, fission, or fusion, the mere fact the bomb itself is a device which in an instant could incinerate millions of human beings, just like my husband and I and our children, would in itself be enough for me to check the 'no, I do not approve' space, regardless of political expediency or anything else.

But I know many people who do not feel as I do, and yet have only a superficial knowledge of the effects of radiation or any other subject relative to nuclear testing. So herein lies the value of such opinions? Here's to a better informed citizenry, a press which is dedicated to truth, and a world at peace.

Very sincerely,
TERRY MACKENZIE

'RIGHT TO RUIN'

Dear Editor:
Thank you for your editorial exposing some of the evils in the proposed "right to work" law.

It is misnamed and should be called the "right to ruin" law.

If in the next few months before the election you can see your way clear to take an occasional punch at this "right to ruin" law it will be greatly appreciated by all working men.

Labor will need all the help they can get to defeat this proposed initiative measure.

Yours Very Truly,
H. C. WOODARD

HALF-PAST TEEN

SAY—THIS LINING COMES RIGHT OUT... BUT WHERE IS THE ZIPPER?

Lee Shippey asks
What Do
You Think?

Every time there is a disaster the police and other authorities urge, by radio and television, that the public stay away so as not to hamper rescue teams—and the result is that hordes of motorists who have no business near the disaster change course so as to go and get in the way.

The President should have remembered that when he made his speech urging us to spend more personally, so the government wouldn't have to spend more on public works. After, being urged to save for years, through War Bonds, Savings Bonds and what not, it was such a shock to Americans to be urged to spend freely that immediately they got scared.

Maybe the only way to get the pightheaded part of our population to do what they should is to urge them to do the opposite.

INCIDENTALLY, the police might have special tickets to give all persons flocking toward the scene of a disaster, and all persons getting them who could not show good reasons for being there should be heavily fined. That seems to be the only way to put an end to morbid curiosity which has caused more than one death in the Los Angeles area.

BACK TO the recession, a flood of hasty spending isn't going to do anything but harm all of us who have to live on fixed incomes if it also is accompanied by a flood of higher prices.

Already meat prices are leaping in California. Last week's figures showed nearly 6,000,000 unemployed, which makes Mr. Hoover's recent speech sound very much like the memorable one he delivered in 1931. But probably there are five times that many Americans who are living on annuities or pensions which barely cover the necessities of life, and unrestrained rising prices can seriously injure them.

In short, it seems to me that if vast government spending is to be kept from causing runaway inflation we are going to have to have some price controls. I know that "price controls," "depression" and "inflation" are dirty words for the administration, but that shouldn't prevent us from looking them in the face.

I clearly recall that, after World War II, during which practically all the manufacturers in this nation had prospered despite price controls, they assured us that if controls were lifted prices would level off after a few months—but they've been steadily rising ever since. And I'm frankly afraid that if there are no restraints now "inflation" to make your hair curl," as predicted by the retired secretary of the treasury, will result.

The better known name for the Public Works Bill is the "Pork Barrel Bill." We always

Watch on the Potomac . . .

Worst Is Over—Recession Safe Topic

By Robert G. Spivack
THE WORST MUST BE OVER—Take it from someone who has been around politicians for a long time, the "recession" is receding.

On what do I base this optimistic forecast? Not on statistics, not on inside information, not even on what my wife tells me. I base it solely on the fact that politicians in both parties now consider the subject "safe" enough to talk about.

When a politician tackles a subject he very often doesn't want to know what the facts are. He wants to know only if the situation might change in some way so it could boom-erang on him before Election Day. If the subject is that dangerous he lets it alone. But if it looks "safe" he'll talk as long as anybody will listen. And then even beyond that.

THE SITUATION as I size it up is approximately this: The Administration was willing to let the facts out about the extent of unemployment and even sanction some gloomy forecasts for January and February because they knew that inventories were gradually being exhausted and that the outlook by late May was for an upturn.

The Republicans were not even too distressed by the public works program favored by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, because they figure that the minute the legislation is signed by the President it will be known as the "Eisenhower anti-recession bill."

On addition to all that, the "Modern Republicans" hope that the nation's recent economic misfortunes will give them a chance to disprove one point for all time: that the GOP is the party of hard-hearted bankers unconcerned with unemployment and economic distress. They will go all-out for as much "welfare" legislation as the situation requires.

If things get better by mid-summer and stay that way for some time you can bet the Republicans will claim credit for the results. They will probably even campaign on the old Democratic slogan, "Don't change horses in mid-stream."

Despite the fact that the odds all favor the Democrats in the Fall election, I am still inclined to think the Republicans may make a respectable showing in certain parts of the country if the economic situation reverses itself.

THE HIGH COST OF MEDICINE—Reports coming to the Capital from Cleveland indicate that the American Medical Association is in for a hard battle with the nation's big trade unions. The issue: the failures of many doctors to keep their fees at reasonable levels.

Right now the United Mine

Workers is taking on the AMA because of "outrageous fees" being charged by doctors in a small Ohio mining area. In addition to big medical costs the UMW believes there has been needless hospitalization, a great deal of needless surgery and some pretty cavalier treatment of patients by physicians.

The AMA doctors, on the other hand, are up in arms at the way the Mine Workers medical plan is working out in some 45 states. What they particularly resent is that the UMW medical director, Dr. Warren Draper, recently lopped off a list of UMW-approved doctors several hundred physicians.

THE DIFFICULTY, the doctors contend, is that in many small mining towns if the UMW knocks one doctor off the list but says another is o.k. the man who is penalized takes quiet a beating in the pocket-book. Since the UMW spends about $90,000,000 annually on medical bills for its members, many AMA doctors are willing to rise above principle and work for the UMW, even though it is "socialized medicine."

But what the AMA doctors are not willing to do is let the UMW tell its members what a reasonable medical fee might be.

Your Congressman . . .

'Pork Barrel'—All Things to ALL Men

By Edgar W. Hiestand
Rep. 21st District

"All things to all men" is the slogan of many politicians whose sole aim in life is to be re-elected.

That means, "always agree to everyone's requests whether you can come through or not." It also means, "vote FOR all money spending projects in your own district and AGAINST raising taxes to pay for them."

I hate to blast Congress or the Democratic Party leadership in such general terms because there are so many conscientious, hard working and able Congressmen. But one action last week was the worst disgrace I've seen in the six years I've been here and it was a solid Democratic Party action that did it.

THEY WERE SOLID for the public works authorization even though it was loaded with gigantic unneeded projects; new projects and programs condemned by the Corps of Engineers as impractical and uneconomical, and condemned by the Bureau of the Budget as unnecessary at this time.

The better known name for the Public Works Bill is the "Pork Barrel Bill." We always have a tough time with it because in it there is usually "something for everybody" and it's a case of "you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours." A year or so ago Rep. Mike Kirwan (Dem., Ohio) even stated on the floor of the House that as chairman of the appropriations subcommittee, he had killed a Nebraska project because its sponsor had voted against his pet project the year before.

In these crucial times when billions must be spent for missiles and bases and submarines, to take 1¼ thousand million dollars of taxpayers' money for dams, buildings, conservation projects and reclamation of unneeded acres, seems to me not only idiotic but criminal.

In addition to "bad" projects which could conceivably reflect honest though mistaken judgment on the part of individuals, the 1958 version of the "Pork Barrel" contains a number of provisions that are beyond any reasonable doubt designed to embarrass the Administration and individual legislators who were forced to vote against projects for their own state or district.

MANY A CONGRESSMAN has been defeated by lesser men who capitalized on such situations.

In addition to the effect on particular Congressional contests, the Democratic leadership expects to gain another advantage by forcing a Presidential veto. If the veto occurs, they will scream to the nation that the bill would have bolstered the economy, increased employment and averted recession.

Actually, there would be no immediate effect. It would be months and years before many of the projects could get underway. Even then, a dam project in Tennessee or Alabama is of little interest or direct importance to an unemployed factory worker in Detroit or Seattle.

In these times, when economic recession demands lower taxes and reduction of non-essential expenditures, this action, reflecting the spirit of "politics as usual," was shameful.

In these critical times, when the nation must of necessity spend billions on national defense, this sort of petty politicking is inexcusable.

I opposed and voted against this bill because I believe with all my heart that the national welfare should take precedence over the pork barrel.

Cave of Mithras Goes Back 3,000 Years

By Edward Lloyd Voorhees

A brief summary of Capri's history can be found in any guidebook for Italy, and any number of authors have written at length about the island from various angles.

"The Book of Capri" by Harold E. Trower, barrister and British consul at Capri for nearly half a century, presents a detailed study of 426 pages, full of fascinating information of all sorts.

Norman Douglas, brilliant and perceptive Scot, has forever fixed the atmosphere of Capri and its traditional effects upon people who linger there in his novel, "South Wind," and "The Story of San Michele," by the famous Swedish physician, Axel Munthe, is a modern classic (1930) about his own Capri villa, to mention only three.

BEFORE THE beginning of the Christian era, the great Emperor Augustus of Rome visited Capri and traded the larger island of Ischia to the Neapolitans for the smaller, more spectacular Capri, where he built roads, aqueducts, and villas.

His successor, Tiberius, retired to Capri at age 85, and lived to age 95. Ever since that time Capri has been credited with a most invigorating and yet gentle climate—a claim which the natives and the travel agencies have done all in their power to perpetuate.

It is popularly maintained in Capri that Emperor Tiberius (or "Timberio," as they call him) built no less than a dozen royal villas there, and one magnificent swimming pool in the sea itself, now in ruins but still a pool with its ancient "reticulated" mason work.

It affords an unobstructed view of distant Mt. Vesuvius and Naples across the Bay, and nearby the bather looks up the cliff a thousand feet to the Villa San Michele, reached from here by a winding path between the vineyards and up a stone stairway of high a thousand steps—a good climb, but not before breakfast.

TIBERIUS'S VILLAS, whose ruins turn up just about wherever one digs at random, were dedicated to Roman gods, such as Villa Jovis on the island's highest N.E. point, now the site, according to Catholic custom, of a Christian church, Santa Maria del Soccorso.

And in the side of a cliff toward the rising sun, there is a huge grotto or cave—only for hardy walkers—which former strange inscriptions within proclaimed as either a shrine to the ancient Anatolian Goddess Cybele or, according to other "authorities," a sanctuary of the coming of Romans or Greeks. Even to enter this grotto, which gathers into it the wild cries of wheeling seabirds and the crashing of the surf far below, gives one the eerie feeling of suddenly moving back 3,000 years in time.

Steak and Kidney Pie Traditional English Dish

By Toni Maurin
SY 7-9634
 When I interviewed Mrs. Lee P. (Joan) Jordon of 410 E. Laurel for some recipes, I asked if she would please share some from her mother country of England. She has, and she recalls a recipe which is prepared far too little in this country.

BEEF STEAK AND KIDNEY PIE
 1 lb. lamb or veal kidneys
 1 cup seasoned flour
 1 1/2 cups chopped onions
 1 1/2 lbs. round steak
 3 tbs. beef drippings or butter
 3 cups boiling stock (or 2 bouillon cubes dissolved in 3 cups boiling water)
 2 carrots sliced
 Few sprigs parsley and celery tops. Salt and pepper to taste.

Wash kidneys in salted water. Drain, slice, and dredge in seasoned flour. Pound round steak and cut into 1 1/2-inch cubes. Heat beef drippings or butter in heavy skillet. Add meat and brown on all sides. Then add onions and kidneys, cooking slowly until brown.

Add stock or stock substitute, bay leaf, parsley, and celery tops. Cover lightly and simmer for 1 1/2 to 2 hours until tender. Remove meat to an oven baking dish. Thicken stock with flour and season with salt and pepper. Add carrots to meat and pour in all of the thickened gravy. Cover with a pastry crust using standard recipe or a packaged pastry mix. Bake in a hot oven till pastry is golden brown.

ENGLISH TRIFLE
 12 lady fingers
 6 large macaroons
 2 cups soft custard
 1/2 cup blanched toasted almonds
 1/2 cup any flavored jam
 1/4 to 1/2 cup sherry or cordial
 1/2 cup heavy cream
 Candied cherries

Line a bowl with lady fingers split in half. Spread with jam and place macaroons on top. Pour sherry or cordial over these and allow to stand until liquid is completely absorbed. Pour well chilled soft custard into bowl and place in refrigerator. When custard is partially absorbed, top with whipped cream and garnish with almonds and cherries.

Fresh fruits in season can be substituted for jam, such as peaches, apricots, or strawberries. And lastly, this recipe is known to us all, but overlooked. It is such an excellent compliment to roast lamb that it well bears repeating.

ENGLISH MINT SAUCE
 (Prepare 1/2 hour before serving)
 1 cup vinegar
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 cup fresh chopped mint leaves
 Salt to taste
 Wash and chop mint leaves. Add vinegar and salt and allow to stand. Another variation is to add one tsp. finely chopped mint leaves to 2 tbs. red currant jelly.

MRS. JORDON was originally from Jesmond, which is a section of Newcastle on Tyne, near the border of Scotland. During the war she served with the Women's Auxiliary of the RAF. She met her husband when he went over in 1942 to serve briefly with the RAF. He was shortly transferred to North Africa where he participated in the invasion, but they managed to keep up a correspondence for two and one-half years.

After his job was done, he went back to England and they were married there. After coming to California they lived in Balboa for two years, on their ranch near Corona, where they raised cattle, and the balance of their time has been spent in Sierra Madre.

She has two children, Wendy, 5 1/2 and Mark, just 18 months old. She is an active member of the Civic Club as well as holding an office in the Daughters of the British Empire.

She loves decorating and just recently had a chance to realize some of her talents by decorating the new addition to their home. She also has a great fondness for participating in ballet dancing, although she has not been able to further this hobby in the past few months.

Mr. Jordon has his own insurance brokerage under the name of L. P. Jordon Co. In addition to his business he still keeps a close check on his ranch, making frequent visits in that direction.

And do you know what slipped in around the corner when we weren't looking? Spring! It's up and sprung and one more winter whirled by and I still haven't had time to settle down like the proverbial bear and hibernate.

I'm feeling pretty smug, though. I got a new spring hat last December so I'm all set for the season. Of course, I didn't get around to getting last winter's coat yet, but I didn't freeze either. By next winter they'll probably change the styles again so I'll just be ahead of the game in spite of myself.

I HAVE been trying to catch up with Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Johnston of 3311 Sierra Madre Villa to find out about their activities for the last month. They recently returned from a two-week trip to Chicago on the new Union Pacific domed train. They had hoped to see snow inasmuch as they were in the East and as a result of complaining about the mild weather, Mrs. Johnston was invited to be a guest on Don McNeil's Breakfast Club.

Mr. Johnston was back there to attend the American Society of Civil Engineers Convention as well as the American Concrete Institute Convention. They came back via Albuquerque, doing a little sightseeing in the vicinity. After they came home they had a dinner party which included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Anderson and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Johnston.

A week ago they had Rev. and Mrs. Earl Mortlock visiting them from Merced, Calif. Rev. Mortlock is youth director of the Presbyterian Church in Merced. The Johnstons had around 30 people in for a get-together after evening services to introduce the Mortlocks. She said she hasn't been doing much this last week as she's been on jury duty.

CAROL BRIDOLF, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridolf of 3273 Vosburg, had 16 of her classmates from Eugene Field School in to help celebrate her seventh birthday. Magic was the theme of the party and was carried out in detail, even to the black hat nut cups. The guests were treated to the fetes, the fast hand and the slow eye. All went home with wonder written on their faces.

DR. AND MRS. Lincoln Wilson of 1500 Old House Road have rapidly settled in their new home. Last weekend they had Mr. and Mrs. Harrell Kloeke of Arcadia up for dinner to view the finished product.

THE A. C. ONG family of 3335 Treva Road has been reveling in the weather of the past few weeks. Being avid ski enthusiasts they have spent every available moment in nearby skiing areas. Last weekend the entire family went up to Kratka.

THE H. C. TUMILTY'S of 1405 Sierra Madre Villa have had Mr. Tumilty's brother-in-law, Mr. Milford Kurtz, visiting them from Derry, Pa. Mr. Kurtz is the superintendent of schools in three districts back there and came to the coast to attend the convention. The Tumilts have been having a series of family dinners in his honor.

MR. AND MRS. John A. Wills of 2941 Doynce Road returned last week from their fabulous Mexican trip. They flew down to La Paz where they met friends. They stayed a few days there then came back by boat, stopping off at different harbors along the way, including a two-day stay at Cabo San Lucas. During one part of their trip they were in a storm of a 70-mile-per-hour velocity, and although it did no more than bounce the boat about a bit, they were mighty happy to have it calm down, and to see a snug harbor.

PCC FORUM

Dr. Claude Buss, perhaps the most favorite platform speaker ever to appear before Pasadena audiences, will discuss "The United States and Russia View the Far East" on the Pasadena City College Tuesday Evening Forum on March 25, 1958 at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Don Benito Gives Honor To Presidents

Three Don Benito past presidents, still active in PTA work, were the recipients of the 1958 Don Benito Life Membership Awards.

Mrs. Donald Mortensen, Mrs. Wayne Blackman, and Mrs. Sam Rudnick were the traditionally surprised award winners.

It was during their term of office as presidents that Upper Hastings Ranch Civil Defense was organized, the first carnival was held and the Don Benito PTA sponsored Boy Scout Troop 383 was formed.

Mrs. Mortensen was introduced by her husband, Dr. Mortensen. Her five years of Don Benito PTA board membership includes secretary, 1951-52; president, 1952-53; room mother chairman, 1955-56; Founders Day and Life Member chairman, 1956-57, and currently legislation chairman, 1957-58.

Mrs. Blackman, introduced by Mrs. James Edwards, served Don Benito as a member of the board for four years as hospitality chairman, 1952-53; president, 1953-54; junior past president (board member advisor), 1954-55, and parliamentarian, 1956-57. She is the youngest PTA president in Pasadena.

Mrs. Rudnick was introduced by Miss Grace McFarland, Don Benito principal. Her five years of continuous participation in Don Benito PTA board activities began in 1953 as membership chairman; recreation chairman, 1954-55; legislation chairman, 1955-56; president, 1956-57, and presently parliamentarian, 1957-58. She served as 1958 Pasadena Council PTA Founders Day chairman and will continue her Council work as third vice president, director of extension.

Chairman of the Life Membership committee, Mrs. Harry Brown, was assisted by Miss McFarland, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Eugene Rode and Mr. Mortensen.

Shakespeare Club Section Has Party

Members of the American Home Department of Shakespeare Club, and their husbands, were in attendance last Saturday night at the group's annual spring party, a St. Patrick's dinner dance, at Eaton's Santa Anita Restaurant. Guests danced to the music of the "Sunnysiders."

Mrs. Jack Rosander, party chairman, and Mrs. Kenneth H. Scott, the department's chairman, were assisted by Mrs. Jack F. Patch, Mrs. Richard Brown, Mrs. Norman Ricker, Mrs. Leonard Melberg and Mrs. Harold Voegel.

Honored guests were Mrs. N. Seymour Dasher, Shakespeare Club president, and Miss Helen Louise Taylor vice president.

A pre-dance cocktail party was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Taplee, 800 Calderwood Lane, with the Rosanders, Patchs, Arthur Eggerts, James Longs, Roger Otises and Kenneth Boyces in attendance.

Leading Couples Named in School Bridge Tournament

Couples holding first and second places through the fourth games in the annual Hastings Ranch Nursery School bridge tournament have been announced by Mrs. Harris Robison, tournament chairman.

12,840 points, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, 12,170 points. Leading Group 2 are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cummins, 13,750, and Mr. and Mrs. Barry Senne, 10,170.

Leading Group 3 are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Caldecott, 13,520, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Noland, 12,700. Ahead in Group 4 are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Neymard, $12,640, and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Boland, 11,000.

Actually players should be into the seventh round of play, with all nine games to be completed by May 10. Mrs. Robison said, however, that scores have been coming in slowly, and for that reason she could only issue top scores through four games.

Mrs. Robison urged the 40 couples in the tournament to get their scores to her as soon as possible, and reminded that games not played by May 10, cannot be played. Runoff play is to start May 11, with each of the four winning couples playing each other for the championship.

Hi, everyone! Over the three-day weekend many things went on. Here are just a few of the happenings.

SHIRY EATON went skiing with her family Sunday to Table Mountain. Shiry really had a ball. She came back with a ski burned face.

CAROL WAKK and her family also went to the mountains. They left Saturday and came back Sunday. Carol said there was snow everywhere and that she really had a swell time.

MOLLY REDLON had some kids over Thursday night. They were Sandy McLain, Fred Scalzo, Janet Burpee, Sandy Marchetti, Judy Crook, Tim Scalzo, Molly Redlon and Jerry Stoffel.

MOLLY REDLON, Judy Crook, Janet Burpee, and Sandy McLain went to see "Peyton Place" the other night and really had a ball.

THIS PAST week the annual Science Fair was in session. There were a lot of good projects entered. You could tell that there were many long hours spent on them.

MARTHA MCINTYRE won first prize. Her project, along with the other winners from our school, will go to Exposition Park to compete with the winners from other schools.

FRIDAY WAS our school Talent Show. It was really fabulous. Mike Collins was a real good master of ceremonies.

SATURDAY there was a big Revlon Pink Heaven premier, which is a fashion show. There were 700 girls who participated. Some of the girls go to our school. They are Anne Tyler, Martha Bennett, Carol Vanderhave, Carol Emery, Aden Segar and myself.

This was really a big thing. Almost all of the models wore pink garments and pink heaven lipstick.

sop, president.

The Hastings Ranch club was represented recently in the District 12 contest of flower decorated hats by Mrs. Walter McGinnis, Mrs. Evan Whitlock and Mrs. Robert Vincent.

New members introduced into the club during the month are Mrs. Charles Mitchell, Mrs. Robert B. Fast and Mrs. W. B. Morse.

Rogers-Sanders To Represent Wilson PTA

Mrs. Walter Rogers and Mrs. Lee Sanders were selected to represent Wilson Junior High School, at a PTA meeting last night held in the school's auditorium, at the State PTA Convention in San Francisco, May 6 through 9.

The meeting was of special interest to parents of 9th and 10th graders since Mrs. Gladiss Edwards, principal of Pasadena High School, and the administrative and counseling staffs were in attendance to explain what the high school offers and the requirements of the junior college and other colleges. A question and answer period followed.

Hiking Highly Regarded — By Shoe Manufacturers

By Charles Ayres

Some people demand physical exercise no matter what form it takes.

Admittedly I'm not one of these. However, wishing for nothing more than peace and tranquility, I was sweet talked into taking a hike the other day by my walking friend.

Walking per se is not to be condemned by any means. As a matter of fact, it's highly recommended by shoe manufacturers. Everybody does it sometime or other during the day—like when walking to the garage, or from the dinner table to the davenport.

IT'S ONLY when the urge to carry such activity to extremes—like hiking—that it requires close scrutiny and serious thinking.

Walking can take various forms—not all of which are undesirable. Take, for ex-

Gallaudet College is a national philanthropic interest of Delta Zeta and offers preparatory classes for those deaf students who are unable to secure a high school education in their own states, as well as a post graduate course to those who are specializing in the teaching of the deaf, in addition to its regular college curriculum.

Local philanthropists for the Pasadena Foothill Alumnae Chapter of Delta Zeta include the Pasadena Braille Club and four local active chapters, UCLA, Long Beach, Santa Barbara and San Diego.

ample, walking down lover's lane with your best girl. Under such romantic conditions burning corns on your feet and the pounding of your pulse, which precedes every coronary, is most apt to be translated as some type of deep emotion.

Hiking, however, should be restricted to Boy Scouts and the Infantry. And I ought to know, having suffered through both—one when I was too young to know better and the other when I was too weak to put up a fight.

Since this exercise is generally performed in groups (no doubt on the misery loves company theory) many happy hours of contemplation are had before the rigors of the march set in. This takes the form of (1) selecting the site, (2) packing the knapsacks to overflowing with life sustaining comestibles, Band Aides, and snake bite kits, and (3) basking in the righteous glow of doing something with the kids.

ALL GOES well during the first stage while descending into the canyon depths, happy and light of foot, with only a couple digressions to reclaim a wandering child or dog. Finally after a flush of healthy well being has passed and the last bite has been consumed the return climb commences.

During this stage gay camaraderie is forsaken, heavy breathing prevails, and it's each man for himself. Where formerly they had gone unnoticed, now many likely spots are located to pause and regroup the clan. After endless hours of this keen suffering the top is reached and you collapse in a grateful heap.

On the silent ride back to civilization you solemnly resolve to (1) sign up at Vic Tanny's in the morning, (2) give up late hours, (3) give up drinking, (4) give up smoking, (5) give up parenthood, and (6) give up hiking.

Field Pupils Tell Parents About Scouting, Camp Fire

No adults appeared on the PTA program presented at Eugene Field last night. Instead, children from the various character education groups took over the evening to explain their year's activities.

All were Field students, with the exception of Jack Gregory, an Explorer Scout, a former Field pupil now attending Wilson Junior High, who acted as narrator to introduce the various groups.

Taking part in the program were: Second grade Indian Y Guides led by Stan Milkulka, who built a totem pole of sections carved by each boy of the group with assistance from his father.

Second Grade Blue Birds, led by Mrs. Peter Hurtig and Mrs. George Thomas, who performed a dance.

Fifth grade Camp Fire Girls, led by Mrs. John Veal, who sang a group of Camp Fire songs.

Brownies, led by Mrs. Lee Gillett, and Girl Scouts led by Mrs. Val Lavrouhin, who presented a skit to explain what their meetings are like.

Cub Scouts, led by Mrs. Ray Anderson, who gave a skit about Alaska, the theme of Cub Scouts for the month.

Boy Scouts, under Phil Farrell, who presented a skit on the right and wrong ways of packing gear for camping.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Donald Lingren, character education chairman.

In a short business meeting before the program, the nominated slate of officers was adopted. New officers are Mrs. Samuel Joseph, president; Mrs. Joseph Cummings, first vice president; Mrs. Stanley Wochnik, second vice president; David Orswell, third vice president; Mrs. Elbert Cox, fourth vice president; Mrs. J. G. Steffens, fifth vice president; Mrs. Rex Thompson, secretary; Mrs. Stanley Milkulka, treasurer, and Mrs. William Fox, historian.

Installation of new officers will be held in May.

Home Program Initiated by Edison Company

The "Medallion Home Program"—a campaign to improve the electrical standards of American homes—was the subject of a kick-off meeting held recently at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena.

Attending were representatives of the home building and allied industries of the Alhambra, Monrovia, Montebello, Vernon and Whittier areas. "Two-thirds of the new homes being built in the United States do not have sufficient 'housepower' (electrical capacity) to permit their occupants to enjoy the full benefits of modern electrical living," declared Harold L. Moore, general sales manager of Southern California Edison Co., which sponsored the meeting.

Purpose of the new national program, it was explained, is to award to homes which meet high electrical standards a distinctive Medallion, affixed permanently to the house—enabling prospective purchasers to tell at a glance that it is a good buy, electrically.

Income Increases While Net Declines

The annual stockholders report of Southern California Edison Co. for 1957, which was released yesterday by Harold Quinton, president, disclosed earnings on common stock of $3.03 per share on 8,397,653 shares of common stock outstanding Dec. 31, 1957, compared with $3.39 on 8,057,404 shares outstanding at the close of 1956.

Net income for the year was $31,597,303, a decrease of $1,718,355 or 5.4 per cent under 1956.

The net income of Southern California Edison Company and its subsidiary consolidated was $31,986,477, equivalent to $3.08 per share on common stock outstanding December 31, 1957, as compared with net income of $33,657,332 or $3.44 per share in 1956.

Gross revenue of the company for 1957 increased $22,372,279 or 11.4 per cent to a total of $218,818,527. The increase in revenue was not enough, however, to offset the impact of inflation upon operating expenses and the effect of rising interest costs.

100 Adult Members Is United Lutheran's Goal

A goal of 100 adult members by Easter Sunday is the aim of the new United Lutheran Church. The mission congregation, which worships at 10 a.m. Sundays in the upper room of the Woman's Clubhouse, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., now has 77 adults and 30 children for a total of 107 baptized.

Easter will be Charter Day for the church. A beautifully inscribed parchment scroll will be signed on that day by the adults and children. It will be presented to the Pacific Southwest synod of 115 congregations, a signing for membership and fellowship and the right to organize formally. After acceptance, the charter will be signed by synod officers. It will be framed and displayed in the narthex (entry) of the church.

"Anyone, adult or child, seeking a church may come forth and become a charter member," said the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor. "All will then be instructed as necessary so that they can be fully qualified members by Organization Day, tentatively set for May 11, and be entitled to all the privileges of membership."

Pastor Hansen will preach on "Down With The Manager!" next Sunday, May 23. "Based on John 8:46-59, this is a crucial game in our baseball series of sermons," he said. "For Christ played fairly, but they tried to stone Him."

The Lenten meditation at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 26, will be on "Dismas: Crucified revolutionist, who snared, in a sense, the aim of Jesus for a new Kingdom."

'Road to Victory' Is Dr. Barnhart Sermon Topic

Dr. Ethel Barnhart's subject Sunday at 9:15 and 11 a.m. services at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena, will be "The Road to Victory." This subject will be an important part of the Lenten program of the Church which has been directed toward a better understanding of the life and teachings of Jesus as the only way to live victoriously in a modern age.

Dr. Barnhart will discuss how man can chart his own journey along this road by understanding the steps taken by Jesus that led to Palm Sunday and the Resurrection.

The theme of the Thursday evening 8 p.m. lectures for March is "Living Daily with God," based on the book by Christian D. Larson. The topic for March 20 is "Character is Power." The lecture is open to the public.

MISSION BELL

EVERY CHILD needs love. Modern psychology has shown that a child denied his fair share of love may grow up an unhappy person who experiences difficulties adjusting to life. People become neurotic and psychotic without enough love.

CHILDREN REQUIRE two kinds of love—love of parents, love of God. Parents can best provide the human love, affection and sense of belonging vital to the child's mental health. Deprived of these "vitamins" the child is emotionally undernourished and may suffer his entire life from immaturity and instability.

EVEN MORE than human love, the child needs spiritual love. He needs to be taught early that there is a God who loves him in a personal way, that God sent His Son into the world to save him from selfishness and sins, that God is his truest friend. Without such training, the child stands to suffer from acute spiritual malnutrition. His soul will know the gnawing pangs of spiritual starvation for a lifetime, through all eternity.

GOD'S DESIRE is that parents see that the child learns the eternal truths of Christian faith and life. God wants parents to bring the child to Sunday school, teach him the Bible at home, set the example of faith, prayer, worship.

CHILDREN GROW UP fast and parents quickly lose their fleeting chance to bring up the child. Yet the child can enjoy the permanent luxury of another Parent-child relationship; he can be the perpetual child of God! This can be his greatest security in life—provided he was taught about his heavenly Father by his earthly parents.

TODAY'S THOUGHT—"Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord."—Ephes. 6:4.

News of the Churches

'Hard Times' Party Saturday

A "Hard Times" party is planned for members of the Lamplighters Fellowship of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church, at the home of Sam Kirk, 646 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., at 7 p.m. Saturday. There will be prizes for the best costumes.

Assisting in plans for the dinner and program are the Herb Bauers and the Lauren Maltbys.

Junior Class To Give Testimony

In the 10:30 Sunday morning service at Faith Lutheran Church, 835 Hastings Ranch Drive, the members of this year's Junior Confirmation Class will be orally examined, according to Rev. Armin W. Hesse, pastor of the congregation. The rite of confirmation will follow on Palm Sunday.

The seven juniors have completed a two-term study of the chief doctrines of the Holy Scriptures and practices of the church. They are Craig Bemis, Kendra Bock, Nancy Frosberg, Laurie Schultz, Charles Seymour, John Sundberg and Steven Strampe.

Also participating in the oral examination, to be conducted by the pastor, will be the first-year pupils of the Junior Instruction Class.

They are Peggy Powell, Lolita Stedman, Leslie Meiners, Roger Pancoska, Rickie Lister, Linda Strampe, Karen Kirmse, Michael Curry, Judith Ann Taylor, Marsha Seymour, Elaine Hesse and John Nardolillo.

Since last September, the group has met every Wednesday afternoon and every Sunday morning to be led in their studies by the Pastor. Until two years ago, the pre-conformation examination of juniors was conducted before the parents of the pupils and the elders of the church, Rev. Hesse explained. But the voting assembly resolved that the examination be conducted in the church service, in order that all members of the church may benefit by a periodic review of the chief tenets of the Christian faith.

The members of the Junior Confirmation Class will be confirmed on Palm Sunday, and receive their first Communion on Maundy Thursday evening.

Faith Lutheran Lenten Services End Wednesday

The last in the current series of six midweek Lenten services will be held next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at Faith Lutheran Chapel, 835 Hastings Ranch Drive.

Rev. A. Hesse will conclude his series of Lenten meditations on "The Great Things Which Jesus Can Do" by speaking on "What Jesus Can Do for a Rugged Army Captain Like Longinus." The Lenten hymn study will center on Bernard of Clairvaux "O Sacred Heart, Now Wounded."

During Holy Week, Faith Lutheran Church has scheduled 8 o'clock evening services on Maundy Thursday and Good Friday evenings.

Rev. Leroy Hux To Continue Easter Sermon Series

"The Life of the Lord Jesus Christ" will be the subject of Rev. Leroy Hux, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Sierra Madre, at the 10:50 a.m. Sunday morning worship service.

This is another message in the series of special Easter season sermons, the pastor is preaching.

The pastor's message at the 7:30 p.m. Sunday evening service is entitled "The Five Points of a Star."

The church is temporarily meeting in the main auditorium of the Woman's Clubhouse.

Homebuilders Meet March 27
 The Homebuilders of Bethany Church will meet March 27 at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. R. M. Savage, 3740 Greenhill Rd., Pasadena.

John Blanchard, president of Culter Academy in Los Angeles, will speak on "The School and Your Child."

Fortnighters To Discuss Ethics of Love

The ethics of absolute love, as taught by Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount, will be the discussion topic at the Congregational Church this Friday night when the Fortnighters meet.

Beginning with the Beatitudes, the group will attempt to assess the relevancy of the injunctions of Jesus to our modern life. Absolute love in the family, in the business world, and in the field of international relations will be among the aspects of the topic.

The Fortnighters club is open to all interested adults. Members meet in the church parlor at 8 p.m. on Friday, March 21.

Lloyd Lorbeer, for 40 years principal of a trade and technical high school in Pasumalai, India, will be the speaker at the Men's Fellowship Dinner at the Congregational Church on Monday evening, March 24.

Lorbeer, who had intimate contact with the Indian people during the British regime, and during the present independent Indian state, will speak on his impressions of India and his conceptions of its role in the world today.

From his Gandhian, he will assess the importance of the Gandhi spirit in the present government of India.

Tickets for the dinner, which will be served by the Women's Fellowship, are available from the church office. All men of the community are welcome.

Rev. Schaper To Head NAE Board

Dr. Schaper of Bethany Church will be installed March 25 as the chairman of the Regional Board Executive Committee of the National Association of Evangelicals.

The installation will take place at the annual banquet of the Southwest Region of the NAE at the First Congregational Church, 535 S. Hoover, Los Angeles. Other officers to be installed are:

Rev. Arne Vick, Assemblies of God, first vice chairman; Rev. Don Algor, Free Methodist, second vice chairman; Dr. Woodrow Road, Conservative Baptist, secretary, and Dr. Earl W. Dorrance, Foursquare, treasurer.

THE VOYAGER CLUB of Bethany Church will hold its monthly dinner in Fellowship Hall tomorrow night. The members are being invited to the "Bethany Banquet" and the evening promises to be one of unusual interest.

Any young married couples interested in participating in this may call the church office, ELgin 5-1409 or the Ray Ellisons, Hillcrest 6-5872.

Adult Class Meets Tuesday

Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Roberts, 157 Acacia St., Monrovia, will be the hosts for this meeting of the adult class of the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, Sierra Madre. The next meeting will be Tuesday, March 25, at 8:15 p.m.

St. Patrick's Day Party At St. Rita's Hall

The "wearing of the green" was very much in evidence last Sunday when all who believe in the "little people" celebrated the event at a party from 8 p.m. until midnight at St. Rita's Parish Hall.

The party was co-sponsored by the men's Holy Names Society and the Guild of St. Rita's. Shamrocks of green, silver and white were suspended from the ceiling with other familiar symbols of the "land across the sea" displayed at the entrance and on the stage.

The evening's program included selections by a vocal quintet, under the direction of Mrs. George J. Matakovich, whose members were Mrs. F. W. Simmons, Mrs. Sterling Ripple, Mrs. John Ruggles, Louis Venegoni and Donald Warfel.

A situation-comedy skit,

"Spreading the News," written by Lady Gregory and produced and directed by F. William Simmons, assisted by John E. Tahl, was introduced by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas O'Malley.

Members of the cast were Miss Marjorie Bradley, Mrs. William F. Maloney, Mrs. James Kilroy, Mrs. Bernard Wynne, Paul Donovan, James Kilroy, David Walker, Frank Parks and Sidney Brown.

The program was followed by a raffle and buffet. Mrs. Paul A. Donovan, general chairman, was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Anthony De Pasco, co-chairmen of the decorating committee, and Mrs. Stanley J. Larcombe, buffet chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Thomas Marchine, Mrs. Lewis Lampi, Mrs. Paul Donovan, Mrs. Ames Hacker and Mrs. Frank Mitchell.

Library Exhibit Places
Cabral Among Top Artists

By Frode N. Dann

Deep and turbulent runs the river of the creative spirit. And its flow is continuously ruffled by obstacles, sometimes extraneous ones, sometimes internal, born of the emotion in the creative person himself.

Flavio Cabral, the artist currently presented at the Sierra Madre Library Gallery, exposes himself to the public with two plainly designated periods: The walls of 1937 and 1958.

PERHAPS some of those who rejoiced in the vivid, personal expressionism of '37 (and before) will sigh and hope for a return. For, though the new hyper-realistic approach, that has overtones of surrealism, is immaculate in craftsmanship, it seems to lack the poignant, creative spark of the earlier period. We don't know what started the new mood. Perhaps the painter is saying: "Just a minute, friends: I am thinking." So, there is no need for worry. For, if the new Cabral realism is merely a trial mood, a nostalgic view of the values of the past, it may turn out to be the starting point of a new and powerful period.

It could have started from the realization that the figure paintings of the immediately preceding time stood in danger of mannerism. We can only have deep respect for the artist who relentlessly watches that he does not bog down in his own skill.

Skillful they are, these paintings of 1957. The abstract, expressionistic figure painting, "Conversation No. 6," is of masterly design. The circular rhythms are delicately and elegantly employed to carry the theme giving distinct undertones of feminine charm, seriousness and innocent frivolity.

THESE MIXED moods are undoubtedly deliberate and evolve, technically, from both linear and coloristic manipulations.

In "Still Life No. 3," where similar rhythms prevail, we get an entirely different reaction. The inanimate subject matter permits an indulgence of more abstract nature though the mechanics of composition and paintings are identical with those of the "Conversation" themes. The paintings with these circular rhythms constitute, in my opinion, accomplishments of high artistic order.

Textures play important role in Cabral's works of '57. In "Seated Figure" one is reminded of Italian Renaissance frescoes where damaged areas provide the textures. But now the spots are deliberate and speak of sensitivity toward surface treatment. A curious study of this is seen in "Faded Memory" where short, vertical brush strokes lend a new touch, almost as a special "weave."

Flavio Cabral's paintings have of recent years been outstanding points of reference in professional group shows in the Southland. The exhibit in Sierra Madre places him among the leading young artists of this region.

League Spot

La Salle High School, only in existence for two years, was accepted this week into the Olympic League of the California Interscholastic Federation for the 1958-59 season.

The announcement came yesterday from Brother R. Celestine, FSC, principal, and Philip Lewis, La Salle athletic director.

The school will participate in league play with competition in basketball, baseball, track, and tennis.

Other schools in the Olympic League include, Bellarmine-Jefferson of Burbank, Chaminade, Lutheran, and St. Agnes of Los Angeles; Harvard Military of North Hollywood; St. John Bosco of Bellflower; and St. Monica's of Santa Monica.

The acceptance marks the end of La Salle's two year free lance status. Mr. Lewis has expressed his confidence that La Salle will make a good showing with the other schools in the league.

RUMMAGE SALE

"Bargains galore mean boys will have more." The Pasadena Auxiliary of Boys Republic will hold a rummage sale next Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium, Green St. and Garfield Ave. This is the 86th of these semi-annual events, the first taking place back in 1911.

Proceeds from this enterprise go to help finance projects at Boys Republic, the West's oldest youth governed community located near Pomona.

The profits from these sales in the past have renovated dormitories, classrooms and the auditorium as well as given the boys a gymnasium, athletic equipment, a dental clinic and much more.

People are not judged so much by the car they drive as by the way they drive it.

Widows of World War I are invited to attend meetings of the Monrovia Chapter of Widows of World War I, Inc.

This is a national organization, founded in Washington, D.C. in 1946. However, it has only been established in California for approximately three years. In this time, 21 chapters have been organized as well as a State Department in Fresno.

All widows of deceased veterans of World War I are eligible for membership. The purpose of the group is four-fold.

First, to promote better understanding and friendship among the widows; second, to further better legislation and benefits for widows of the first war; third, to secure free hospitalization for all widows who cannot afford to pay; and fourth, to eliminate limitations of salary to all widows of World War I.

A membership of ten widows is required to establish a chapter. Dues are approximately $2.50 per year. The activities include pot-lucks, card parties, box socials and picnics.

The Monrovia Chapter would be happy to have any local ladies who are eligible for membership, join it, and in the future, when there are enough members, assist them in establishing a Sierra Madre Chapter.

Further information may be had by writing or telephoning Mrs. Amanda Bradley at 206 W. Olive, Monrovia. ELiot 9-2421.

FIRE FLAMES

By Chief James Heasley

It is easy to say that residents should not be bothered with Fire Department problems. The firemen do not expect people to lose sleep over worrying as to their safety from fire.

There is a certainty that every member of the Fire Department looks forward to the possibility that he may have to jump from his bed at any hour of the night. The fellows really take their responsibility seriously. And yet householders and citizens must realize that their safety depends a great deal on how much fire precaution they themselves practice.

RESIDENTS can prevent fires and if every home owner or tenant remains fire conscious, there is no telling how much good he or she has done for the community. The fire conscious person is comparable to the white lines that adorn the highways and streets. That little silent line has saved more lives than can ever be imagined. There really is no excuse for an accumulation of fire hazardous materials. Such carelessness is avoidable and when fire reaches it, the neighbors have a perfect right to lay the blame where it belongs.

We are grateful to those who keep their places clean and free of dangerous stuff. When someone is reminded and asked that trash, weeds and papers be removed, and the suggestion is actually ignored, there is little they can expect but trouble.

Such people are a menace to the community. Strange as it may seem, such people are among the first to condemn city regulations and particularly the Fire Department.

Why, oh why, do we have a few residents who will not abide by suggestions for safety? We meet those who are "sore" at the city, because something or other did not suit their fancy. To get even, they allow ugly appearances about their property and at the same time, add danger to their own place as well as the neighbor's. It's hard to believe.

THE NEWLY elected officers of the Fire Department are Jim Heasley, chief; Charles Brown, secretary, and Joe Grippe, treasurer. Charles Brown is first assistant chief, Eugene Toms, second assistant chief, while Ed Decker, Tom Solury, John Goddall and Lewis George are captains.

Lewis George filled the vacancy left by Bob Thomas, who has moved from the city.

It is most seriously urged that residents clean up. This means every room in the house and all portions of the yard, including garages and sheds. You will never know just how terrible a large fire can be until you have seen one. What makes them spread is the added fuel and any type of inflammable material is certainly fuel to a fire. Keep the FIRES OUT.

Business Complaints Up 15 Pct.

More than 58,000 people asked the Los Angeles Better Business Bureau for help during 1957, Robert J. Bauer, president, reported in figures released yesterday.

In a year-end summary, Bauer said that 10,943 complaints regarding unsatisfactory business transactions were recorded. This represented an alarming 15 per cent increase over 1956. During the same period, 47,931 requests for information about business concerns were received.

Bauer said that 18 per cent of the complaints received concerned purchases of radio and television sets and appliances, and 10 per cent were about unsatisfactory purchases of furniture, home furnishings and floor coverings.

Complaints in the automobile sales and service field dropped 32 per cent although inquiries regarding reliability of automobile dealers headed the list of requests for information.

St. Rita's Forms New Troop of Girl Scouts

The newest Girl Scout troop in Sierra Madre is Brownie Troop 4, second-graders at St. Rita's.

The 17 girls who were recently invested are Susan Ames, Judy Beardshear, Sidney Broshan, Laurel Cavanagh, Colleen Crossman, Roxanne Cummings, Kathleen Hall, Betty Ann Kirsch, Jerilyn Kriskey, Ann Lamp, Cecilia McNamara, Martha Ann Mulleavy, Nancy Narowich, Jane Sindenaden, Eileen Sweeney, Pamela Termath and Charlene White.

These Brownies meet every Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at various members' homes with their leader, Mrs. Donald Termath, and assistant leader, Mrs. Eugene Hall. They follow a Brownie program of crafts and games geared to the second grade level.

TROOP 8 fifth grade Scouts have a Girl Scout Week display in Perry's window, depicting the type of projects they are working on to complete for Second Class rank. At their Tuesday meeting, Bill Wark of the Sierra Ma-dena Area Scout Council Easter week camp at Mission Ranch, and are beginning to work on preparations for a summer cruise in August.

TROOP 22 eighth grade Scouts are working toward 100 per cent achievement of Curved Bar rank by the June Court of Awards. Immediately following completion of these requirements, contemplated in April, the troop will start in on a senior scouting program, to prepare for the specialized fields of Mariner, Mountaineering, or Trailblazing Scouts.

As a troop, they have attended performances of "Around the World in 80 Days" and "Cinerama," and had a spaghetti dinner at the home of Kathy Brown, with a cook-out and an ice-skating party planned for the near future.

Several of these Scouts are planning to attend the Pas-

MRS. HUGH WARRINER, former treasurer of the Sierra Madre Girl Scout Council, and present troop organizer in the Pasadena Area Girl Scout Council, represented Sierra Madre Girl Scouts at the governor's conference on Youth Participation in Community Affairs in Sacramento during February.

About 4,000 adult and youth delegates from California attended to study ways in which the young people in the state might take part in community projects.

Mrs. Warriner was a member of the community affairs discussion group, one of the nine topic groups, which was led by Milton Goldberg, also of Sierra Madre.

HIGH HOPES—California's 1958 Easter Seal sweetheart, 10-year-old Pamela Schmidt of San Rafael, shows Gov. and Mrs. Goodwin J. Knight the roller skate she hopes to use some day instead of her crutches. Pamela visited the governor to remind him that "Good Skate Day" was celebrated in roller rinks throughout the nation on March 18. Here in the Southland, admission proceeds from 12 local roller skating rinks will be contributed to the Easter Seal campaign to assist the many thousands of handicapped children who receive rehabilitation and recreation services through the Crippled Children's Society of Los Angeles County.

Atlas to Expand Area Headquarters

After months of careful planning, the Board of Directors of Atlas Federal Savings of Pasadena yesterday announced that work has begun on the expansion and remodeling of its present Colorado St. quarters and parking facilities, with completion scheduled for mid-summer.

According to Roger A. Gurley, secretary-manager of the Association, expansion now under way has been made necessary by steady growth in every department since these quarters were first occupied a little over seven years ago.

Organized on June 29, 1936, Atlas Federal started business at the corner of Madison and Green, and shortly thereafter moved for a period to the northwest corner of Green and Los Robles.

They later moved to the southeast corner of Oak Knoll and Colorado. In December, 1950, with assets totaling $2,480,099.27, Atlas Federal moved to their present quarters at 722 E. Colorado, on the opposite corner.

The present pressing need for additional space now requires that the Association occupy the entire building, and plans under way call for a complete remodeling of the two sections into one integrated structure. A much larger vault will be installed and more spacious facilities are planned for all departments.

Dog Bites Man—and for Good Reason

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

The joy that children receive from pets, particularly dogs and cats, far outweighs the danger incurred from bites and disease that the animals may inflict on them.

This was pointed out in an article by Dr. Hugh A. Carithers, of Jacksonville, Fla., which appeared in a recent issue of the Journal of Diseases of Children, published by the American Medical Association.

The report noted no serious or lasting effects to 157 children who had been bitten by one of 10 species of animals during the 20-month study.

THE MAJORITY of children bitten were between the ages of 2 and 10 years.

"This is during the time when parental protection wanes and the adventurous spirit takes over," said Dr. Carithers. "After the 10th year a child has attained considerable discretion in handling animals."

A boy's natural aggressiveness towards animals was illustrated by the fact that males held a 3 to 2 ratio over females in the number of bites.

Seasonal factors seem to have little or no importance as to when an animal might attack. No less than 4 nor more than 15 cases were recorded in any one month.

Of the various animal bites examined during the survey, the dog was the most frequent offender.

"To his credit, however, it should be pointed out that the child was usually at fault," Dr. Carithers said.

Why do dogs bite children? Observations seem to indicate the following reasons are most common: in self-defense, unintentionally during play, and in protection of their property.

In addition to the dog, other animals involved in the study were the cat, rabbit, squirrel, horse, rat, ham-taught to avoid all strange animals, especially sick or injured ones.

4. Children should be told to avoid routes where dogs are known to chase vehicles, and not to trespass on private property.

5. Under a adult supervision, children should be encouraged to make friends with pets in their neighborhood.

6. An adult should be called when a child finds two animals fighting.

Sierra Guild Members Plan 'Gala'

Sierra Guild of Childrens Hospital held its regular monthly meeting yesterday in the Arcadia home of Mrs. Jack Hursh, 1836 Alta Oaks Dr.

Important item on the agenda was the planning of the annual spring party for the benefit of Childrens Hospital. Mrs. H. C. Tumilty, president, announced that the Guild will repeat its successful "Gala Sunday" of last year and has named Mrs. William McCormick as chairman.

This year's "Gala" is scheduled for May 25 at Gard Hall in Glendora, 3 to 6 p.m., and will once again feature music by the "Firehouse Five Plus Two."

A buffet luncheon followed the meeting.

Lady Voters Meeting Next Tuesday

Sierra Madre and Hastings Ranch members of the League of Women Voters of Pasadena will join with other units in the monthly League Day on March 25 at 9:45 in the Women's City Club, Pasadena.

The day will be devoted to topics of local interest. Members will participate in a round table discussion of the Pasadena Planning Commission, the Regional Planning Commission, County Board of Supervisors, Pasadena Board of Education and Recreation Commission.

In preparation for a study of the California constitution, a skit will be presented, "What's the Matter With Our Constitution."

Following luncheon, Edward Bignell, director of the Pasadena Recreation Department, will discuss recreation programs of the city, school district and county as well as those of public and private agencies.

This meeting is open to the public.

Work on Ball Field

Sierra Vista Park, while the present one will be called Memorial Park.

2. Bids on a heater for the new swimming pool will be opened.

City councilmen, incidentally, made a field trip Tuesday to the Passionist Fathers property to examine the drainage problem at first hand, and later held a session on city personnel.

Catholic Women Have Meeting In Altadena

The monthly Leaders' Institute of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, Pasadena Deanery, will be held in St. Elizabeth's Parish Hall, 1849 N. Lake at Woodbury Rd., Altadena, at the invitation of the pastor, the Rev. William J. Mullane, on March 27 at 10:30 a.m.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Clarence Hauber, altar and spiritual development chairman on the Archdiocesan Board, who will talk on "Finding Spiritual Development in Our Daily Activities."

The Rev. Timothy J. Crean, pastor of Assumption Parish in Pasadena and chaplain of Pasadena Deanery, will offer the opening prayer at the meeting presided over by Mrs. Howard Lane of Holy Angels, Arcadia.

St. Elizabeth's Mothers Club, Mrs. James Phillips, president, will provide luncheon with Mrs. Ralph VanWagner and Mrs. John Leonheart acting as co-chairmen in the arrangements.

SPACE AGE

The main characteristic of the present day is the speed at which everyone is traveling.

Funeral Services Observed for Francis Fenton

Francis "Monty" Fenton, 395 Sycamore Pl., died in Sierra Madre Hospital last week following a brief illness.

A native of England, Mr. Fenton came to the United States in 1906 and moved to California a few years later. He had lived in Sierra Madre for the past nine years.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothy, and a sister-in-law, Miss Lalla Fagge, both of Sierra Madre; a brother, Capt. Eric Crosland Fenton, R.N., and a sister, Mrs. Frank Merson, both in England, and a niece, Mrs. Carita Lawrence Wyant, who lives in the East.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Church of Our Saviour, San Gabriel, with Dr. Crawford W. Brown officiating. Committal was in Pasadena Mausoleum, with Ripple Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

ART EXHIBIT

Lydia Marieq, one of Sierra Madre's artists, is having an exhibit of her paintings at San Gabriel Recreation Club during this month and through April 7.

Very often a man's chosen profession has been thrust upon him.

Funeral Rites Observed for Bessie Schlatter

Mrs. Bessie G. Schlatter, 275 S. Euclid Ave., Pasadena, died March 16 following a lingering illness.

She is survived by a brother, Lloyd E. Thatcher, Worcester, Ohio, and a nephew, Jonathan Thatcher, San Bruno, Calif.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, with the Rev. George Lindsay of the Congregational Church officiating. The Ripple Mortuary Chapel was in charge of arrangements.

People who keep on the up-grade are those who stay on the level.
